

OPPORTUNITIES FOR DOCTORS

Casual After Hours Doctors

There are currently opportunities for dedicated medical practitioners interested in providing quality, after hours medical care in patients' homes. After hours, home visit medical services are in demand across the Wollongong, Shellharbour and Kiama areas from 6pm weeknights, midday Saturday and all day Sunday and Public Holidays. You would be well supported in your work by the professional team at Radio Doctor Illawarra who will look after all the marketing, publicity, billing and administration and let you get on with providing great medical care to patients.

The work

Radio Doctor Illawarra is an AGPAL accredited medical deputising service. This means that we provide our member GP's with efficient, professional medical care for their patients when they are not available. We are a proud, not for profit cooperative which has been successfully owned and run by its member doctors since 1974. Our approach is the provision of quality, after hours medical care which supports our members to care for their patients. Because we are not for profit we put patients first.

Because we work for, and on behalf, of our member GP's we are clear about the role that a locum doctor should play and therefore locum Doctors do not undertake a range of treatments and tasks which are best undertaken by a GP or in hospital. However, the work is interesting, challenging and can be very rewarding as it greatly assists a diverse range of people in their own homes when they need it most.

Radio Doctor Illawarra will provide after hours locum doctors with the support they need which will in turn provide you with opportunities for high earnings and support you in achieving a great work/life balance. Casual or regular weekly hours are available.
